WYNN BROWN

WRITER, EDITOR, & GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Wynne Brown is a freelance writer, editor, and graphic designer.

She co-edited and designed the award-winning Cave Creek Canyon: Revealing the Heart of Arizona's Chiricahua Mountains (EcoWear & Publishing, 2014), and she is a contributor to The Sonoran Desert: A Literary Field Guide (University of Arizona Press, 2016).

She is also the author of two award-winning books: More Than Petticoats: Remarkable Arizona Women (2003, 2012) and The Falcon Guide to Trail Riding Arizona (2006), both published by Globe Pequot Press/Rowman & Littlefield.

In addition, she is a member of Tucson's Dry River Poets, and she is the editor, a contributor, and the designer of the group's poetry collection, Spilled (Casa Luna Press, 2011). Her writing has appeared in Spiral Orb, Oasis, Planning, Arizona Highways, Journal of Arizona History, Discovery Health, and many more.

She is currently at work on a biography, Like Death to be Idle: Sara Plummer Lemmon, 19th-century Artist, Scientist, and Explorer.
