EDDIE FILEMYR

PAINTER & JEWELRY DESIGNER

Eddie Filemyr's whole life has been an exploration of beauty and the wonders of nature through art. She studied art in Ridgewood, New Jersey, Skidmore College, and received an MFA from Antioch University. Filemyr has taught art at Hood College, Wilson College, Hagerstown College, Antioch University, and several museums and art centers. In order to teach any subject, one must first understand it well. She has always maintained her own studio, as well.

Just recently Eddie began painting again, this time with acrylics. She was awarded best in show at the Mispillion Gallery, first prize at Del. Tech, and she has participated in juried shows at Rehoboth Art League, the Milton Art Guild, the Biggs Museum, Millsboro Art League, and numerous other shows.

She lives, paints, gardens, and travels with her husband and dog in Milton, Delaware, and Rodeo, New Mexico.
